Today’s Old News

Art News Vivid pictures from Poland

Summing Up, the whole Production Process of the Informalised type called intellectual production process, or finally old newspaper s

We mean here in the format that churns out the process of photos –

I. A Kitsche title of a leader, and the leadership is a joke on Stalin.

II. II. Protests going off instead of Stalin

III. A Complex Assemblage of protests is then the historical format of the history of Polish Solidarity

See a Figure in a Camera

Public Transportation and the Changing Face of Buses and Protest of them

Now I articulate this to Slavoj. He thinks we compare this image of the protest and the image of previous high sounding creative stuff by their montage which is perfect – creative rock and roll people with images of protests as they call it.

I also mean that depression photo was just too evidently them.

Love the images.

SOLIDARITY, Poland's mass trade union movement, was the best advertisement for socialism for many years. I mean then in fact that there is a mass protest image I call the comparison we have to do as collectives. On the weekend of the 12/13 December last year the Polish ruling elite sent in the police, backed to the hilt by the Kremlin, to smash Solidarity. Thousands of union activists were herded into jail, and martial law was imposed. This Socialist Challenge pamphlet, written by staff writer Davy Jones, puts the case for solidarity with

Poem printed in Solidarity strike bulletin 5, 26 August 1980

One day a woman goes to the doctor:
'Doctor, give me an examination!'
'You've come to the wrong place, I'm afraid.
I am just a vet.
I don't look after humans.'
'O, that's all right, doctor,
I feel just like an animal.
When I get up in the morning
I dash through the house,
panting like a dog or a cat,
I gallop to work like a horse,
I cling to the bus like a monkey,
Loaded up like a camel,
Defending my marriage like a lion,
I'm already asleep when I get back from work in the evening, and then I hear my husband whispering
Above my head, "Wake up, owl!"
Perhaps you have some miracle cure which will make me a human being.'

The 21 demands of the inter-factory strike 1 Acceptance of free trade unions independent of the Communist Party and of enterprises, in accordance with convention No 87 of the International Labour Organisation concerning the right to form free trade unions, which was ratified by the Communist Government of Poland. 2 Guarantee of the right to strike and of the security of strikers and those aiding them. 3 Compliance with the constitutional guarantee of freedom of speech, the press and publication, including freedom for independent publishers, and the availability of the mass media to representatives of all faiths. 4 (a) Return of former rights to: - People dismissed from work after the 1970 and 1976 strikes - Students expelled from school because of their views. (b) Release of all political prisoners, among them Edmund Zadrozynski, Jan Kozlowski and Marek Kozlowski. (c) Halt in repression of the individual because of personal conviction. 5 Availability to the mass media of information about the formation of the InterFactory Strike Committee and publication of its demands. 6 Undertaking of actions aimed at bringing the country out of its crisis situation by the following means: (a) Making public complete information about the social-economic situation. (b) Enabling all sectors and social classes to take part in discussion of the reform programme. 7 Compensation of all workers taking part in the strike for the period of the strike, with vacation pay from the Central Council of Trade Unions. 8 An increase in the base pay of each worker by 2,000 zlotys (app.£30) a month as compensation for the recent rise in prices. 9 Guaranteed automatic increases in pay on the basis of increases in prices and Photographer: William Harper.

We mean just the process of evaluating the economics and just the process of elaborating economics is enough

Be a winner of a award.

Do not do actual economics.

Be a peaceful person.

But attack the establishment.

Do a police riot.

And do mass politics.

Do a lot of student politics.

He means student politics especially.

Let students elaborate economics in the Polish Consulate gates.

Let them organize a critique.

Of what is called then criticism.

Why this is auto-production is because it is an free praxis in that Antonio Negri sense.

That process is our economics.

Our economics is to talk about wages right now in the coal worker section.

We mean it as kitsche.